The Anderson House in Calvert is a small three bay long brick dwelling painted ~~yellow~~ white and was probably built in the early 19th century. The brick is laid in Flemish bond on the east facade but has neither belt course nor water table. The simple center door has a rectangular transom. Louvered shutters hang on the first story windows only. The rear pitch of the "A" roof has been almost flattened to accomodate a three-story frame wing to the rear of the original house. The building is well maintained.
